

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's law has been very effective. I used to receive over 15 calls per week disrupting our normal family life, now I only receive one or two.